HOLDING HIS GRANDDAUGHTER, Anne, 2, in his arms Gen. Dwight Eisenhower grins happily as he arrives at Fort Knox, Ky., for a brief reunion with his family. Beside him is his son, Maj. John Eisenhower, holding three-year-old Dwight David 2nd. The youngsters were greeted with a hearty "Hi fellows!"

Eisenhower Sidetracks Discussion Of Politics

Washington (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday sidetracked any discussion of his political intentions "just now" and said he has never authorized any Ike-for-president boom.

Reds Defend New Positions

U. S. Eighth Army Hqs., Korea, Tuesday (AP) — Communist troops last night defended with rockets and the fire of massed tanks two key hill positions they won in a savage Sunday attack on the western front.

Allied infantrymen supported by tanks, artillery and planes were fighting up the two slopes. Pitched battles flared all along an eight-mile sector of the battle front and southwest of Yonchon.

An Allied officer estimated that elements of two Communist regiments — 400 or more men — were defending the hills. Behind them 22 Russian-type tanks poured fire at the attacking U. N. troops.

Southwest of Yonchon four more Red tanks rumbled up to the front last night and pounded an Allied hill position.

The Reds unleashed 150 rounds of rocket fire at Allied troops.

An Allied officer told AP Correspondent Sam Summerlin at the front that "enemy resistance is fierce" in the sector west of Yonchon, about eight miles north of the 38th parallel.

Heavy Red casualties were indicated, one Allied officer estimating it would take 1,000 men just to count the Communist dead.

Army To Send Women To Korea

Washington (AP) — The Defense department expects to send 600 Wacs to Korea, to take over jobs now held by men.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg mentioned the figure yesterday in talking with members of the advisory committee on women in the armed services. Rosenberg heads the committee.

The women probably will be sent to Pusan, defense officials said. That is a base area out of the combat zone.

State Payrollers To Cut Walker, Income Tax Foe

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said last night that State payrollers have been ordered to "cut" Sen. John M. Walker, Republican candidate for Allegheny county commissioner.

Walker, GOP leader in the Senate at Harrisburg, has led a fight against a State income tax proposed by Gov. John S. Fine. The senator easily won one of the two Republican nominations for county commissioner, the second place on the GOP ballot being copped by Louis Conley, State securities commissioner.

The Post-Gazette declared both Republican State and Democratic county organizations are trying to defeat Walker today.

The five-star general also declared he did not discuss politics "not a bit" during a private luncheon meeting with President Truman at Blair House yesterday noon.

Later in the day, Mr. Truman, Eisenhower and the nation's top defense officials held a full-press conference at the White House.

Press Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen the conference, lasting an hour and 20 minutes, centered on "problems of allocation and production" for the North Atlantic Treaty organization and for Eisenhower's supreme headquarters, Allied powers in Europe (SHAPE).

It had been generally expected that the conference would discuss means to quicken the flow of U. S. arms to Europe in order to build up a compact fighting force in Western Europe ahead of schedule.

Eisenhower appeared cheerful but tired as he talked with newsmen at his hotel last night after an exhausting nine-hour round of talks at the Pentagon, the White House and Blair House.

Asked if the subject of politics had come up in his talk with Mr. Truman, the general replied: "No sir."

Sharply intensifying the mystery over what plans he may have for the 1952 presidential race, Eisenhower held fast to his original statement, on his return to the United States on Saturday, that he came back simply to discuss arms problems in Europe.

Like Eisenhower, the White House threw a damper on any political implications connected with the general's visit.

Newsman asked Presidential Secretary Short whether the visit had any bearing on the possibility that Eisenhower might give up his post as supreme Allied commander in Europe "sometime in the future."

"It certainly did not," Short said emphatically.

Earlier, a reporter had put this direct question to Eisenhower: "Have you ever given anyone any authority or go-ahead to undertake political activity in your behalf?"

Without hesitation, General Ike replied: "No."

It was a long, rolling "no-c-o-o," followed by a hearty laugh.

A newsmen then asked: "If anyone tries to talk politics with you while you are here, will you let them?"

"Not just now," the general replied crisply.

Eisenhower said, however, he would be glad to see Senator Duff (R-Pa.), who has been booming the general for the Republican presidential nomination.

"He's a friend of mine and I'd like to see him, but I haven't heard anything from him," Eisenhower said.

So far, the general has refused to say even whether he prefers the Democratic or Republican party.

Iran Refinery Operating

Tehran, Iran (AP) — The government of Iran announced yesterday that with God's help and no foreign engineers it is operating part of the old Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. (AIOC) refinery temporarily to supply domestic needs.

Allies Press Truce Talks

Munsan, Korea, Tuesday, (AP) — The Allies urged the Reds yesterday to skip final settlement of the deadlocked buffer issue and go on to other questions in hopes of hastening a Korean armistice.

A Peiping radio broadcast gave the impression the Allied proposal was not acceptable. The broadcast of a dispatch from Kaesong did not say the plan would be rejected, but termed it a "deceptive maneuver."

The dispatch asserted the Allies were attempting to gain Kaesong by trick or conquest. The broadcast, heard in San Francisco, was heralded in advance by the Communist radio as important.

A United Nations command spokesman said Communist acceptance might cut in half the time necessary to stop the fighting in the 16-month-old war. He did not estimate what that time might be, however.

The formal proposal, made at yesterday afternoon's meeting in Panmunjon, was that a 24-mile-wide buffer zone with some adjustments, be created wherever the battle line happens to be when an armistice is signed; and that a committee of three men from each side be assigned to work on this item while the full delegations get together on the other items of the armistice agenda.

These other items are arrangements for behind-the-lines inspections to make sure an armistice is observed; exchange of prisoners and recommendations to the affected governments on eventual withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

Joan Crawford, Five Others Ill With Poisoning

Hollywood (AP) — Actress Joan Crawford, three of her adopted children and two servants are recovering after being stricken with food poisoning at Sunday dinner, her studio disclosed last night.

Miss Crawford said she believes a chicken served at the dinner caused the illness. While the six were confined to their beds, their doctor said they were not in serious condition.

The actress is expected to return to her studio about Wednesday. Stricken with her were Cynthia and Cathy, four-year-old twins; Christina 12; their nurse, Margaret Brucharcher, and a maid, Julie Carmen.

U. S. To Ask World Count Of A-Bombs

Paris (AP) — The United States was reported ready last night to submit to a count of its atomic bombs and other weapons as part of an international disarmament plan if all other countries will do the same.

The plan is part of a peace package with which the U. S. hopes to seize the initiative against the Soviet Union in the sixth United Nations General Assembly opening here today.

In the first move to take the offensive, the United States, Britain and France came forward with a surprise proposal that the United Nations appoint a "neutral international commission" to make an investigation in both East and West Germany as to whether it is possible to hold genuinely free elections for an all-German government. This was the West's answer to the Communists' German unity campaign.

The only move made by the Soviet bloc yesterday was in the windup session of the fifth assembly which adjourned to clear the decks for the new assembly which convenes at 3 p. m. (9 a. m., EST) today. A Russian proposal to refer to the new assembly the question of giving China's seat to the Communists was smothered by a vote of 20 to 11, with 11 abstentions. The Russians are certain to revive the issue.

The United States, in advancing its authoritatively reported plan for an atom bomb count, still stands on its demands for fool-proof inspection and verification of such a census. This stumbling block is expected to delay, if not prevent, any actual inventory of the atomic war chest.

The Russians and Americans never have agreed on a system to verify such a count, and an eastern European source last night called the new American plan a "big bluff." In short, few delegates expect Russia to take the challenge.

The American decision, with which British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden expressed full agreement last night, was said authoritatively to be the heart of a peace plan to be outlined Wednesday night by President Truman in a speech from the White House. It will be put before the U. N. Assembly Thursday by Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

January Draft For Husbands

Harrisburg (AP) — Pennsylvania draft board will start inducting married men under 26 in January.

This was disclosed yesterday by State draft headquarters in announcing a draft quota of 3,908 men for Pennsylvania in January.

Col. Henry M. Gross, State draft director, said some draft boards in the State will start calling married men with no children in January for the first time. The calls will be made in line with a new Federal law, lifting the previous exemption on married men.

Pennsylvania's draft quota of 3,908 men for January is based on the national call of 59,659 for the month, Gross said. The Keystone quota for December is 1,015 men, with all inductions scheduled to be completed by December 21.

'Charlie's Eyes' Dies Of Polio

Dallas (AP) — "I can't die, I'm Charlie's eyes," Mrs. Helen Boland, 43, of Big Spring, Tex., told Dallas doctors last week.

She was speaking of her nearly-blind husband.

She died Sunday from her second attack of bulbar polio.

Both her legs were paralyzed in childhood by the disease.

She married Boland 13 years ago. They operated a concession stand in the Big Spring postoffice.

Vote Today; Polls Close At 8 P. M.

Today is Election day.

Polls in Monroe county's 31 election districts opened at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

Voters will elect a justice of Supreme court, sheriff, three county commissioners, a probatory and clerk of court, register and recorder district attorney, three county auditors, councilmen, school directors, supervisors, justices of the peace, constables, judges and inspectors of election.

There are 17,107 eligible voters in the county, who have the right to make their choice for all of these offices (See Editorial "Vote Today" on Page Four).

No National Trends Likely In Elections

Washington (AP) — Voters will elect two governors, four members of Congress and scores of mayors today, but their ballots are not expected to mark the road for 1952.

Local issues have predominated in the campaigns, and the results probably will not furnish any guide to how the country will go when it comes to choosing a president and a new Congress next year.

Kentucky and Mississippi are electing governors, but only in Kentucky is there a contest. Democratic Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, a 43-year-old Louisville attorney, is opposed by Republican Eugene E. Siler, 51, a Williamsburg lawyer and Baptist lay preacher.

Kentucky usually elects Democrats in this race; the state has had only three Republican governors in 30 years.

In the other gubernatorial election, Democrat Hugh White is opposed in Mississippi. He was nominated on a States' Right platform.

As for the mayor races, Philadelphia has a hot one between Democrat Joseph S. Clark, the city controller, and Republican Daniel A. Poling, prominent Baptist minister.

Philadelphia has been Republican in its city hall since 1880, but the Democrats say they will win the mayoralty this time. The campaign has been marked by charges of misrule, graft and cheap politics.

Jouhaux Named Winner Of Nobel Peace Prize

Oslo, Norway, (AP) — Leon Jouhaux of France, staunch 72-year-old anti-Communist labor campaigner, was announced last night as winner of the Nobel peace prize for 1951.

He was credited in France with saving the French labor movement from being subverted by Communist leadership. He has been a constant target of Red abuse.

Jouhaux organized the French "workers' force" as a potent anti-Communist group and led it out of The General Confederation of Labor when the Communist moved in after the Second World War.

On the international front, Jouhaux has championed the movement for a United States of Europe and has always preached for world peace in speeches to his labor followers.

Two Separate Exposions Shake Area

Concussion from the blast at the Independent Explosives Co. Suscon, rattled houses throughout Monroe county last night.

Telephone calls from hundreds of residents flooded switchboards at The Daily Record office and at State police barracks.

Some of the calls came from Dingmans Ferry, about 70 miles by road from the scene of the explosion, and also at Port Jervis, N.Y.

All over the county people ran out of their houses "to see what had happened."

Scores thought something had gone wrong at Tobyhanna military reservation. Dynamiting has been going on there for some time. At the reservation, however, workers were equally puzzled by the heavy blast.

Large plate glass windows at Pocono Manor and Skyline Inn weaved and wavered but remained intact. Other dwellers in the Mt. Pocono section, however, said putty had been cracked around window panes.

At Newfoundland, Rotarians thought a "scuffle" had taken place. Houses there were rattled, but no damage was done.

Dozens of persons asked if there was an earthquake, said they had heard no blast but their houses had been shaken.

At Pocono Pines a man claimed his door had been blown open by the shock wave.

HST Cautions Union Against Pay Demands

New York (AP) — President Truman and two of his top controls officials yesterday in effect asked the CIO to put the brakes on wage demands during the present emergency.

In carefully worded language, President Truman said one of the biggest tasks facing the nation is to get high defense production without bringing on renewed inflation.

In a letter to the CIO's 13th annual convention, he said this would require "steady production" plus "restrained and responsible actions" by businessmen, farmers and workers.

Michael DiSalle, director of price stabilization, was more blunt. In an address, DiSalle said, "Labor must temper its demands according to the economic necessities of today."

Inflationary pressures are increasing and in times like these, DiSalle said, the best thing a strong union can do for its members is to seek wage increases that do not endanger price stability.

"It is obviously impossible to base wage policy under controls upon the strength or weakness of unions," DiSalle said at one point.

This was taken among delegates to be a direct reference to a resolution offered to the convention which calls for the Wage Stabilization board to keep hands off contracts negotiated between unions and industries.

Manly Fleischmann, defense production administrator, said national security will be attained "if we do not take counsel from private interests who would risk the whole mobilization effort for selfish gain."

Taverns Must Absorb New Tax

Detroit (AP) — At least one bubble in the rising cost of living burst yesterday.

Detroit taverns which boosted the price of beer five cents a bottle after the recent Federal tax increases were warned by the government to take it back.

John J. Frank, Detroit enforcement director of the Office of Price Stabilization, said the increases should be applied to case lot beer—but not to single bottle prices.

He said the actual tax increase per case amounts to 7 1/2 cents. That makes it one-third of a cent a bottle. But since the OPS has directed that tax increases must be to the nearest cent, single bottle prices must remain the same.

Korean Vet Killed

Athens (AP) — A 23-year-old soldier just returned from Korea was killed yesterday in an automobile accident near this northeastern Pennsylvania town. The victim was Cpl. Jeremiah Donnelly of nearby Waverly, N. Y.

Blasts Kill Two Men At Suscon, South Of Scranton

Scranton (AP) — Two explosions ripped through a powder plant nine miles south of here yesterday, killing two men and injuring a third.

One of the dead was identified by police as Stanley Shumsky, of Dupont, Pa. The other victim had not been identified.

Injured was Charles Davis, 45, of Suscon RD2, Pa. The plant was the Independent Powder Co. of Pennsylvania, and was located in a mountainous region at Suscon.

At the height of the search for blast victims and while the blaze still was smoldering in the plant, fire broke out in a large furniture warehouse at nearby Duryea, Pa.

Fifth Atomic Blast Biggest Of Test Series

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — A strong, fiery atom bomb—the most powerful and brilliant in the fall test series at Yucca Flat—rocked the southern Nevada desert for miles yesterday but no serious damage was reported.

Children were released from school in the little town of Caliente, Nev., (population 1,000) as the Atomic Energy commission issued a special warning to the community, but a freak of atmospheric spars spared the town. Telephone lines were hit, however, and service was disrupted briefly. Residents watched the atomic display from the streets.

The same strange action sent the shock waves bounding harmlessly past more heavily populated Las Vegas.

But the explosion — accompanied by a full-scale, 10-second fireball at 11:30 a. m. EST — jarred observers on Mt. Charleston, 50 miles from the test site. A double-wave shock, following the flash by nearly five minutes, had the intensity of a medium earthquake.

The fifth in the AEC's present series, yesterday's bomb seemed to have twice the power of No. 4, which tested troops in Exercise Desert Rock last Thursday.

Rare Surgery Performed

Columbus, O., (AP) — 16-year-old boy was kept alive by artificial respiration for an hour yesterday while doctors operated for a brain injury.

The boy, identified as Charles Strickland, of Columbus, was struck by an automobile whose driver fled after the accident. He was en route home from school at the time. His condition is critical. Charles stopped breathing while in the hospital emergency room. Doctors began applying respiration manually until an oxygen unit could be wheeled into place.

A brain specialist, who requested he not be identified, said "the boy didn't breathe on his own for 45 minutes or maybe an hour." The specialist said he continued with the brain operation on the chance that the boy would start breathing again if the operation was a success.

Severe head injuries in children sometimes results in their stopping breathing, the doctor said. The condition, however, is rare, he said, and in my own experience I have seen only one other such case."

The brain specialist said that the boy's blood pressure was so low—because of breathing through artificial respiration—at the start of the operation that the surgical knife caused no bleeding.

London, (AP) — Britain's new Conservative government laid drastic plans yesterday for a national fight to stave off another devaluation of the pound.

Marine Corps To Get New Leader First Of Year

Washington, (AP) — President Truman yesterday appointed Lt. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr. as commander of the Marine Corps, effective January 1.

Shepherd will replace Gen. Clifton B. Cates, whose four-year term as commander expires with the end of the year. Cates will be given a new assignment.

Shepherd will receive the fourth star of a full general when he assumes the command. He is now commanding general, fleet marine force, Pacific at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Police Chief Joseph Russavage of Duryea estimated damage to the building and contents owned by the Kurlanchick Furniture Co. at $1,000,000.

Shumsky's body was located by volunteers and State police who searched the wreckage with large searchlights and flashlights. The other victim, tentatively identified as a man named Wertz, still had not been recovered several hours after the initial blast.

Shumsky, a watchman at the plant, had been standing near a truck when the first explosion let go. State police said they had found only a fender of the destroyed vehicle.

Davis was taken to Pittston State hospital where he was reported in fair condition with back injuries and shock.

State police threw up protective lines around the plant, saying that there still are two live magazines in the plant area which might explode.

Davis and the unidentified dead workman were working overtime, cleaning up around the plant when the blasts occurred. Sixty other workmen had quit at 4:30 p. m.

The first was timed at 6:40 p. m., with the second coming seven minutes later.

They were heard as far away as Stroudsburg, 46 miles southeast of Scranton, and at Port Jervis, N. Y.

Gene Coleman, a reporter for the Scranton Tribune, reported from the explosion scene that the plant was a shambles. He said he had been able to get within 500 feet of the plant.

Coleman reported the earth torn up over a wide area, adding that it was difficult to get a clear picture of the destruction since all electric lights and utility poles had been leveled by the blasts.

No estimate of damage was immediately available in the plant explosion.

Police said there were no immediate reports on what caused the plant explosions or the Duryea furniture warehouse fire.

Fire trucks from five communities raced to the warehouse fire but were unable to save the building which was leveled by the flames.

State police established that there were two blasts at the powder plant. Earlier reports had said three.

Daniel Moskow, 23, of Wilkes-Barre, driving along the Dupont highway three miles from the scene, reported the force of the blasts seemed to lift his late model sedan into the air.

He said his car was blown from the highway to the soft shoulder alongside the road. He was not injured and his car was not damaged. Moskow said he first heard a rumbling roar, then a huge blast that sent what he called enormous flames into the sky.

Then, he continued, he heard a third blast and saw the flames reduced.

Moskow was enroute to Scranton to visit his wife who had recently given birth to a son.

Joan Renfer, who lives in Suscon about a mile from the plant, reported the windows of her home and three homes across the street were blown out by the repercussion.

A resident of Dupont, near Suscon, reported the streets littered with debris from the blasts. He said the Dupont fire truck had been called to the scene.

Sinatra-Gardner License Lifted

Philadelphia (AP) — A tall brunette stopped into the marriage license bureau here yesterday to pick up the license for Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner, but it was still anybody's guess when the Hollywood pair will hold their ceremony.

Isaac D. Levy, director of radio station WCAU and a personal friend of Sinatra's sent his secretary, Joan Findley, to pick up the license but admitted later that he has "no idea when the marriage will take place."

According to Pennsylvania law, the couple has 60 days in which to use the license and the ceremony may be performed anywhere in the state.

Stroud Twp. Safety Patrols Receive Badges, White Belts

The safety patrols for the Stroud township consolidated elementary schools at Clearview and Analomink, Raymond Harding, supervising principal, were equipped yesterday afternoon with the recognized standard regalia, white Sam Browne belts and shining badges.

The two patrols are sponsored by the Monroe County Automobile club, a local affiliate of the American Automobile association, representative of which participated in the investiture of the boys and girls forming the groups. They were R. LeRoy Dengler, president, and A. F. Everitt, secretary. Mrs. Cynthia Watt, secretary-manager, who handled the details in cooperation with Mr. Harding, was also present.

There is a junior and senior patrol at the Clearview school with 40 members enrolled, 39 of whom were present to receive their belts and badges. Four buses carry pupils to the school which makes necessary large-sized patrols. Frank LaBar is captain of the patrol and Robert Kassay, lieutenant.

The Analomink patrol consists of 12 members, all but one of whom were present. Thomas Barr is captain and Charles Brink, lieutenant of this group which supervises the handling of children carried to the school in two buses.

The patrols were formed in the two schools through the interest in child safety and activity of Mr. Harding, "Rex" to most people who know him well. Special motion picture films furnished by the local motor club, through the Pennsylvania Motor federation, were shown in both the schools as a preliminary to the formal organization of the patrols. One was entitled, "The Safest Way to School" and the other, "How Patrols Operate."

Mrs. Watt has arranged for another film to be shown in the schools on bicycle safety, entitled "You and Your Bicycle." This feature will arrive this week for screening.

It was stated by Mrs. Watt, in this connection, that films will be made available for other schools in the county or other organizations interested in highway safety for children on application to the Stroudsburg office, N. Seventh St., in the Penn-Stroud hotel building. Eleven teachers, including the supervising principal, are engaged at the Clearview building and two at Analomink, also under the supervision of Mr. Harding. Grades one to six inclusive are enrolled in both.

The child safety program was inaugurated in this country 30 years ago by the AAA and has grown from a handful of inexperienced boys and girls who had little or no confidence, into more than 500,000 in 6,000 communities throughout the country.

Between 1922 and 1948 the rate for traffic deaths at intersections decreased more than 30 per cent as a result of the school safety patrol movement, while general death rates due to accidents jumped 75 percent during that period.

If there are any schools in Monroe county which do not have patrols which are interested in the safety project, information may be had at the local office of the Monroe county club, officers stated yesterday.

Atlee Receives Order Of Merit

London, Tuesday (AP)—Buckingham palace said today King George VI had bestowed the Order of Merit on Clement Atlee, who resigned as prime minister on October 26.

The order, limited to 24 Britons and such eminent foreigners as the king may designate, was instituted by King Edward VII in 1902 as a special distinction for men and women who do not wish a title. Atlee joins Prime Minister Churchill among the few men to be both members of the Order of Merit and Companions of Honor, the latter an order limited to 65 persons.

Religious Film To Be Shown Here

The inspiring motion picture "King of Kings" will be shown in the First Baptist church, East Stroudsburg, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

This film presents the immortal story of the life, crucifixion and resurrection of the King of Kings.

Many of the scenes familiar to readers of the New Testament are graphically set forth. The miracle of the blind girl given sight and the raising of Lazarus are seen.

The film is a full length work, running one hour and 45 minutes. The Mizpah class of the Sunday school is sponsor of the picture and in charge of the service. The public is invited to attend.

It Will Hurt Them

Tariff concessions which long have been extended to Czechoslovakia under the American reciprocal trade policy have been suspended on orders of President Truman.

This means that the goods Czechs sell in this country will be subject to higher duties, so they will be able to sell less.

In retaliation, the Czechs are doing the same thing to U.S. goods destined for Czechoslovakia.

This exchange of economic blows will hurt the Czechs more than the United States, because the Czechs have been selling at a heavy rate to American importers. Virtually no American goods are sold in Czechoslovakia.

The Czechs need U.S. dollars to help pay for the war machine their Russian masters are building. Few commodities are more important to them than dollars. The President's new order will hurt. But it would hurt more if we simply shut off all trade—cold.

P.S.—William N. Oatis, is still in a Communist prison in Czechoslovakia.

Now It's Norway

Latest free country to come under the evil eye of Russia is Norway.

For more than a month now Russia has been trying to force Norway out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by threats.

Moscow fears that Spitzbergen will be fortified, posing an Allied threat to the approaches to Murmansk, important Soviet naval base.

But Russia's increasingly sharp notes to Oslo are, as usual, based on phony charges. Norway is accused of "desecrating" the graves of Russian war dead—mostly war prisoners and slave laborers—killed by the Germans in Norway's liberation struggle.

The Norwegians have offered to join in an investigation with the Russians to disprove the charges.

Yesterday, the Russians demanded a quick answer to their latest provocative note. It is useless for Norway to try to rationalize the matter further with the Communist aggressor.

Her only course is to sit tight, knowing that she has the confidence of the western Allies, and hoping that Russia will turn down the heat when some other spot looks more inviting for Moscow mischief.

Montezuma, king of the Aztecs at the time of the Spanish conquest of ancient Mexico, was the second of that name.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Ralph Ingersoll recalls that when Bill O'Dwyer first ran for public office in Brooklyn, he made it a practice to appear on the platform with a piece of paper in his hand, ostensibly filled with notes. After a quick look at his audience, however, he would crumple the paper into a ball and throw it in the corner, remarking heartily, "I can see I'm among real friends this evening. I don't need notes to speak to this kind of audience."

Ingersoll took the trouble to recapture one of O'Dwyer's discarded "pages of notes." It was an old laundry bill.

Mr. Miller was so bowled over by the beauty of an applicant for the job of private secretary that he never even asked her if she could type. "Let's get right down to business," he proposed cheerfully, but after dictating three letters, he hastily added, "I tell you what, Miss Michaels, I'm in rather a hurry with my correspondence this morning, so how about taking it down in long-hand?"

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Alan Ladd celebrated his 10th anniversary at Paramount the other day. There was a fancy cake with candles in his dressing room from the commissary. And congratulatory messages from old associates.

"Ten years ago today I started 'This Gun For Hire,' the bronzed muscle man said after pouring me something that fizzed. "First scene? I don't remember. I probably shot a couple of people. I expected to stay six months. Didn't know how kind God would be to me." I asked Alan what he wants for the next 10 years. "Just to be as lucky as I've been the last 10," he grinned.

Handshaking with the stars: "I gotta get a vacation," yelled Betty Hutton, now emoting as old-time vaudeville Blossom Seeley. She had only a few days off after finishing DeMille's circus epic. She'll holiday in Honolulu three or four weeks. Then, if allowed further time off, she'll head a troupe of show folk to Korea. . . . Jack Benny and violin did a one-day bit with Hutton in "Somebody Loves Me." I asked the star of "The Horn Blows at Midnight," "Artists and Models," etc. If he ever yearned to top another movie cast. "Well, brother," roared Jack, chewing his cigar, "it'd have to be some sensational picture for me to want to do it with all my other activities."

Besides his Sunday shows, he'll do six telecasts in the next year. There's a plan still fluffily cooking. Benny said, to film his life. Jack claimed "nothing too exciting" has happened in his career. "It's been a slow, step-by-step thing. You'd have to embellish it." The still-interested producer wants to do the picture as a satire on movie biogs. . . .

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Deed Is Done
Admiral Charles Maynard Cooke was in charge of the "Pennsylvania" at Pearl Harbor; he had been Chief of Staff to Admiral King during World War II. He was in command of the Seventh Fleet from 1946 to 1948. He was in command of all American combat forces in China after General Wedemeyer left that country.

In view of this record, the McCarran committee therefore summoned him to come to Washington from Formosa where he is now engaged in a commercial enterprise, having retired from the Navy. In his testimony before the McCarran committee, he filled in a number of gaps in our information concerning the American relations with China, which are now of tremendous importance to us because it is on account of our errors in that country that we are fighting in Korea with at least 100,000 casualties. The following is extremely pertinent:

"Senator Ferguson. Do you know anything about the supply of ammunition to the Nationalist troops?"

"Mr. Cooke. Yes. After (Wedemeyer) left, around the 1st of August, 1946, the supply was cut off."

"Senator Ferguson. Why?"

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington, Nov. 5.—This is a case history of an agency in Washington that continues to publish phony figures in an effort to increase its control over credit buying in the nation.

The build-up to impress Congress when it returns in January with the need for continued and expanded controls is the brain child of the Federal Reserve Board. It issues periodic warnings that you and I buy too many television sets, too many automobiles, too many washing machines. The sales talk is that we have too much money as individuals, too much credit at stores, and service shops. We, as individual consumers, are being accused of increasing inflation and creating higher prices by our gluttonous behavior. There is no truth in the accusation.

The Federal Reserve Board uses the figure of $19,000,000,000 as the total amount of individual credit in the country. The figure is used by every propagandist in the government who is eager for more controls, more bookkeepers, economists, messengers, typists and even more propagandists on the federal payroll. The Federal Reserve board figure is false propaganda and I can prove it. But even if it were correct the need for more controls is negative, because $19,000,000,000 in consumer credit is still less than 10 per cent of our current combined national earning power.

For instance, the Federal Reserve board scare-figure, being used to impress upon Congress the need for more controls, contains the so-called total amount we each owe on current gas, electric and telephone bills. This is not a credit figure in any sense of the word. In many cases we pay deposits for all of these services, and in the event we do not the gas and utility companies require payments at the end of each month or out comes the meter or telephone.

Another interesting figure in the board's compilation is $14,130,000,000 that we owe collectively on automobiles in the form of time, or credit payments. This is one of the major reasons for the board ever getting credit controls in the first place. It is also a phony figure. Instead of charging that we as individuals are spending too much for automobiles, the board should be honest and admit that its figures include all time payments for commercial vehicles. To function, business needs trucks. It always has, and if Congress will examine this one item carefully it can't help but lose some of its fright over how much is being spent for transportation. Not all the automobile credit is for joy riding reasons.

More than $1,000,000,000 of the total represents Federal Housing Administration loans, largely for home repair and modernization. This figure can be eliminated completely from the total. FHA loans are anti-inflationary. To start with and are a credit as such that would not be convertible to getting a cash loan from a bank for buying a consumer article. FHA loans stretch out payments for as long as 35 months, which delays the return of that money into the markets.

Federal Reserve Board figures also charge against us as individuals borrowers all sums obtained from banks by commercial users, such as contractors, manufacturers and even farmers who buy from feed lots such items as grain and hay.

Not even the most rigid controls would alleviate the need of feeding livestock or borrowing to construct plants for defense work. So the argument that this money creates inflation and therefore we as individuals should be granted

"Mr. Cooke. Well, I didn't do it, and I can't say why."

"Senator Ferguson. Did General Marshall ever discuss that with you?"

"Mr. Cooke. He discussed it in general without making too much comment except that he made the observation to me that we, meaning the United States, had armed the Chinese, and now we were disarming them. In other words, we had undertaken to equip 30-odd Chinese divisions, equip them with guns and things of that kind, and then we stopped the flow of ammunition and made a complete embargo, so we didn't supply it or wouldn't let them buy it for a period of about ten months, I believe. He just made that observation to me, that is all. He wasn't called on to do it, but he did do it."

"Senator Ferguson. It amounted to disarming them because they were not getting the ammunition for the weapons we had supplied them?"

"Mr. Cooke. That is right. "Senator Ferguson. What effect would the arming of the Nationalists have had as far as the Communists were concerned?"

"Mr. Cooke. Of course, the Communists were being very well supplied in Manchuria by the Russians from arsenals and from captured Japanese guns and ammunition. We were practically certain that was going on, and of course in our white paper reported from our diplomatic representatives in Moscow that it was going on. . . .

less credit is phony.

The truth is that we owe closer to $7,000,000,000 in debts as individuals, than to $19,000,000,000. In fact, the total amount probably owed by persons buying radios, television sets and household appliances on installments is closer to $2,000,000,000. For this the Federal Reserve board, and most of the other federal agencies of the government concerned with controls and inflation, want to load the payroll with more employees.

Pointing out how phony are the figures that are being used to scare Congress won't stop the propagandists. The National Foundation of Consumer Credit, a reputable research organization financed by bankers, manufacturers and retailers, has made direct appeals to the Federal Reserve board to come clean on its statistical propaganda. The foundation was ignored, but congress won't be if it shakes down the bloated statistics to an honest amount. I just gave Congress a sample on where to start.

"Senator Ferguson. And General Marshall had told you that of course that amounted to the disarming of the Nationalists?"

"Mr. Cooke. Yes." This Chinese Communist army was built up, while the Nationalists were disarmed, and now we are fighting the Chinese Communists in Korea. And for a number of years, our State department issued propaganda to the effect that the Chinese Communists were buying American arms from corrupt Nationalists.

The State department has also made many statements of sending supplies to Chiang Kai-shek which were wasted. I have from time to time stated that there was an embargo against the Nationalists while the Communists were being supplied. Here is Admiral Cooke's sworn testimony on the subject:

"Mr. Morris. What was the nature of the embargo, Admiral Cooke?"

"Mr. Cooke. The United States would supply no combat equipment of any kind, including ammunition, and they wouldn't allow the Chinese to buy any in the United States. Eventually I think they bought some spare parts and maybe some transport planes, no combat planes but transport planes like C-47s and C-46s."

"Mr. Morris. Will you tell us when this embargo went into effect?"

"Mr. Cooke. I can't tell you exactly, but it was about the 1st of August, 1946."

Once you were certain that you would see only the postmaster. Now you expect to see Mary Martin, Gertie Lawrence or Erio Pinza. Believe it or not, the special delivery stamp, which cost a dime not so many years back and which went to 12 and then to 15 cents, will now set you back 20 cents! A few years ago you could send a messenger for that much and throw in a bouquet with the message.

Twenty cents is a lot of money to pay to SLOW up a letter. But if you are determined to have a letter get through later than by regular mail you shouldn't kick about putting an extra nickel into the effort.

Oscar Hammerstein says very high income taxes are good for a creative man, as they spur him on to new efforts. . . . This makes Oscar really the "stranger across a crowded room." . . . But we still don't think the "surtax" with the fringe on top is responsible for his energy in show biz. . . . He keeps producing and maintains his enthusiasm in the face of his heavy tax bill because the market for his stuff is terrific, it's fun to have dough pouring in from past performances, and because, like most show folks, he would rather hear the applause and the cheers on a million or two a year than get five million without them. . . . Nobody can tell you, Oscar, that you burst into "Oh, what a beautiful morning" when the tax blanks arrive. . . . Quo Vadis is on such a majestic scale that we hear the buttered popcorn machine will have chariot wheels as a Charlie Winninger began as a boy acrobat and trombone player in a troop composed of the whole darned family. . . . We didn't know until we read "Show Biz" that Willie and Eugene Howard started, with another lad, as "The Messenger Boy Trio," that Charlie Chaplin was an actor at the Colonial Theater in "Karno's Wow-Wows," that Texas Guinan once had a vaudeville number called "The Gibson Girl" and that Jack Benny began with the team billed as "Salisbury & Benny," later appearing as "Ben Benny, the Fiddlin' Kid," and changed his name to Jack so as not to be confused with Ben Bernie. . . . Or that the first cigarette testimonials from theater people were from Harry Bulger, Fatty Arbuckle and John Mason, endorsing Murads in 1905.

"Mr. Morris. How long did that stay in force?"

"Mr. Cooke. Until the following May."

"Mr. Morris. May, 1947?"

"Mr. Cooke. Yes." "Mr. Morris. During the time that was in force was the Chinese government able to buy any equipment in the United States?"

"Mr. Cooke. Not so far as I know. I am fairly sure not."

Surreptitious arrangements were made to permit the Chinese Nationalists to take opium and heroin from the Nationalist government in Tsingtau. The only objective to aiding the Nationalists in this way came from John Carter Vincent. Here is the record:

"Senator Ferguson. What did (Vincent) say?"

"Mr. Cooke. He just said we ought to figure out a way to destroy it (the munitions)."

"Senator Ferguson. And 'not give it to the Nationalists?'"

"Mr. Cooke. That is right. . . . Actually we designated a place there where we were going to take it, and we told them we were going to put it there. We didn't tell them we were going to give it to him, but we were putting it in this place, and they did come and get it, and of course they did use it. . . .

"Senator Ferguson. Did Mr. Vincent assign any reason for not giving it to the Chinese Nationalists in the way you proposed?"

"Mr. Cooke. He just indicated it was undesirable to do so."

What a boon it was to the fire-alarm operator, the yacht club dance manager and the lending library that wanted a book back!

The post office used to be regarded as the poor man's friend, the one place you could enter when on your uppers. It is taking its place with the theater and the quality restaurant. You once entered a government post office without a thought about expense. Soon you will enter it with the same feeling experienced when inquiring about seats to "Top Banana," or "South Pacific." Once you were certain that you would see only the postmaster. Now you expect to see Mary Martin, Gertie Lawrence or Erio Pinza. First Units Of 28th Division To Leave Atterbury Saturday

Men Briefed On Plans For Overseas Trip

Camp Atterbury, Ind. (AP)—First units of the 28th Infantry Division will leave Camp Atterbury by train Saturday on the first leg of the trip to Europe, Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, 28th commander, announced at a division rally here yesterday.

With the entire division assembled before him, General Strickler briefed the men on what to expect during the next few weeks when the unit will move to Germany.

The first units to depart from Camp Atterbury will be those scheduled to take part in an Armistice day parade at Philadelphia, on November 12. They will sail from Philadelphia shortly after the parade.

All other units of the 28th will sail for Germany, from Hampton Roads, Va.

(There was no indication in the announcement whether the men of Company G, East Stroudsburg, would participate in the Philadelphia parade or travel directly to the port of embarkation.)

General Strickler also revealed at the rally that parents and friends of 28th soldiers will be permitted short visits at the port of embarkation. Announcements of sailing dates for the various division units is expected to be made far enough in advance to enable visitors to get to the port.

General Strickler emphasized to the soldiers that the 28th Division represents the last of six divisions which the United States has committed to Atlantic pact defense.

"We have a tactical mission in Germany," he said, but added that its nature is "top secret" and could not be disclosed. Nevertheless, General Strickler cautioned the soldiers to be on constant alert after arrival in Europe.

Touching briefly on the schedule for the troops after arrival in Germany, General Strickler said three major phases are involved:

One—On arrival at the European port, the troops will be welcomed with full ceremony and then moved out to a staging area.

Two—At the staging area the division's equipment and vehicles will be assembled and picked up by the troops during a several-day stay.

Three—The troops will then move to assigned positions where they will be billeted in German Kaserne barracks. General Strickler said, "There will be some distance between organizations, with the division headquarters located centrally."

Referring to facilities in Germany the 28th commander told the soldiers that complete post exchange service clubs and other facilities will be available.

General Strickler also encouraged the soldiers to be on their "best behavior" once in Germany and to "gain the admiration of those German people whose support we need very much."

During the rally, General Strickler also described the atomic bomb explosion he witnessed last week at exercise "Desert Rock" in Nevada. He said he believed the final results of the test would prove that our troops could attack through an A-bomb area shortly after bombs were dropped on the enemy.

Grazing Lands Fixed By U. N.

Rome (AP)—The U. N. Food and Agriculture Organization hopes to make Middle East nomads stay at home by establishing pastures where they can find grazing land for their flocks and camels.

In barren, mountainous Iran, thousands of Kurd and Bakhtiari tribesmen migrate across the country hunting grazing lands. The plan is to use irrigation and fertilization to build up pasture areas as an inducement to make the tribesmen settle down.

Johnston Blasts Inflation Enemy

Boston, (AP)—Economic Stabilization Administrator Eric Johnston said yesterday that "Communist warlords are hoping" that inflation will hit all free nations because that would be worse for them than any fifth column.

Back from a survey of Europe, Johnston told a Boston Chamber of Commerce audience:

"Inflation is a threat to the security of the free world second only to outright aggression. It would destroy us just as effectively as force of arms.

To meet that danger, he added, the United States must move to control inflation "with the same bold initiative that we put into the Marshall plan and the mutual defense assistance program."

University Women Study Candidates On Election Eve

The election eve meeting of the American Association of University Women last night featured a study of local candidates, with the information presented without comment from questionnaires filled out by the candidates themselves.

Fourteen of the 20 candidates to whom questionnaires had been sent had filled them in listing birthplace, family, education, business experience, and church and club affiliations, and previous political experience. They were read at the meeting held at the Stroud Community House by Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, legislative chairman.

Mrs. Henry Slaboski, president, presided at the business meeting, when Mrs. Mary Paul Neumann presented her resignation as treasurer, and Miss Doris Salathe was elected in her place.

Dr. Veva Dean, program chairman, reported on coming programs, and Mrs. H. G. Sanborn III, Mrs. Roger Dunning and Dr. Dean gave brief impressions of the state convention.

Mrs. Claude Leister reported on the recent meeting of the International Relations Study group at the Kurt Wimers, and repeated invitation to join with the college social studies group, for a session. Mrs. Edwards announced that the legislative study group would sponsor a panel discussion on the proposed income tax for Pennsylvania in late November or early December.

Mrs. Robert Haigh, chairman of publicity for the annual Book Fair, explained some of the purposes to which the proceeds would be put in providing scholarships for outstanding women scholars both here and abroad, and announced the dates for the Book Fair, November 12-17, at 314 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Mrs. J. Charles Smith, chairman of hostesses for the Book Fair, scheduled volunteers for various times during the fair, and members having more books to contribute were asked to call the chairman of the Book Fair, Mrs. Arthur Ifft.

Announcement was made of a play to be given at the college, November 28, 29 and 30.

Featured speaker at the program which followed the business meeting, was Dr. Veva Dean, head of the geography department at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, who spoke on "Landscapes of Scandinavia."

Dr. Dean, who spent three months this summer traveling in Scandinavia, was able to add her own personal impressions to the vivid colored slides which she showed of her trip through the canals and cities, by castles and churches, through mountains and hamlets.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Today is election, and no matter what else you may have on your schedule—this is it. Oh, I know you've had "Vote—vote vote" dinned into your ears until you don't listen anymore, but unless you do something about it, it's so much wasted effort.

Certainly the women's clubs have been urging you long enough. The Stroudsburg Woman's club is going to post those little corners that the members tear off their ballot as proof of voting.

The AAUW sent out questionnaires to all the local candidates and last night studied their answers at their meeting so they'd know something about the candidates besides a name on the ballot and a picture on a telephone pole.

Which was fine as far as it went, but next local election, I'd like to see the questionnaires sent out earlier, and the answers published side by side so everybody could know as much about them.

Now, look—I know my mathematics is shaky—but say there's a township with 600 voters, and of that number 150 vote. Well, that means 76 voters could decide how the whole township would be run for the next few years.

And don't think township officers aren't important. Likely to matter more to you and your children who is on the school board than who is the next president of the United States. So I'll see you at the polls, huh?

THE Wyckoff
SHOPPER

The silver tea or coffee service is, to many of us, the symbol of gracious living. There is hardly a woman who doesn't dream of someday presiding over a table where her own silver gleams in bright appreciation of her charm as a homemaker and hostess.

Do you have such a dream? Would you care to invest in it? Silver, of course, is an investment . . . in glamor today and in a cherished heirloom tomorrow.

Wyckoff's is featuring the Repousse pattern by Kirk, and I would like to call your attention to the after-dinner coffee service proudly enthroned on a glass shelf in the jewelry department. As Edna Harmon, department head, points out, Repousse combines simplicity, for the woman of plain tastes, and ornate design for the woman who tends toward the elaborate. The floral cluster surrounding the base of the coffee pot, and used with discreet good taste on other Repousse pieces, is as elegant as anyone could desire. The price is expensive, naturally . . . sterling in line with the current silver market. The complete service . . . a coffee pot that holds six demitasses, sugar, creamer and waiter . . . sells for $387.50, tax included.

But suppose sterling isn't in your future? You can still realize your hopes of grandeur. There is always pewter. Miss Marion Leedom of the gift department, offers pieces direct from Holland where it has always been cherished for its beauty, durability and drama.

Standing spellbound before a Dutch masterpiece, one invariably notes how painstakingly the artist has depicted the gleam on some ever-present pewter ornament. Even lovelier in reality, this metal is now molded along stunning, simple lines perfect for contemporary living. And the prices? Teapot, sugar and creamer cost about $25 . . . and there's no tax. An eight-cup coffee pot is about $21, and trays are about $18. Open stock, these pieces can be ordered one at a time. Cherish that dream of yours. It makes life worth living!

Daily Record Contest Open To Amateurs

Started taking those pictures for The Daily Record's photographic contest yet?

Well, there's no time like the present to start.

People have asked us, "What kind of pictures shall we take?"

There are so many things which crop up in the lives of people to-day which make good pictures, that it's hard to say just what should make a good subject for a picture. But we've been asked and we're going to try to answer.

Suppose, for instance, that when you have your camera with you, you suddenly come upon a herd of deer. Stop your car quietly, get your camera set and take the picture right through the window of your car.

It can be done and it will make a beautiful picture. It tells a story; too, for deer are curious and many times they'll wait to see what is going on before they become frightened and scamper away.

The average home offers many good shots. If you have a dog and he suddenly scares up a neighbor's cat, it would make a grand subject if you could get a picture of the cat with her back raised, holding the dog at bay.

On the farm you could get a shot of late fall plowing. This most certainly tells a story of preparation for next year's planting. Farm animals in their daily environment make excellent subjects for contest pictures.

These are only three suggestions out of hundreds which might be brought to the attention of amateur shutter bugs. All you have to do is use your imagination and follow the simple rules contained in the display ad in this issue of The Daily Record.

Remember, you can win up to $25 in prizes for this newspaper is giving $100 in cash at the end of this month for the best pictures submitted in connection with this contest.

Remember, too, this contest is for amateurs only. You will not be competing with professional photographers for they are barred from this contest.

Get busy right now. Read the rules in today's Daily Record, get your camera out. You'll be surprised what may pop up to give you just the kind of a "shot" which will win a prize for you.

Social Clubs To Exchange Data On Suspended Members

Furthering their strict policing activities, the Monroe County Federation of Clubs delegates last night approved a plan for interchange of information regarding individuals suspended from club privileges for misconduct.

The exchange will be for informative purposes only, leaving the door open for clubs so informed to take whatever action they deem necessary under their house rules in the matter of such offenders.

Proposed by the American Legion delegation, the action will require any club suspending a member for misconduct to immediately notify the secretary of the federation, who, in turn, must notify other club members of the federation.

Delegates met for a dinner-business conference at the Thomas P. Lambert Post, 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, with Fred Hoffman presiding.

George W. Price submitted a legislative report which will be given further study and action before the Legislature reconvenes December 10.

Color Lends Individuality

Color gives a home individuality and personality and sets it apart from its neighbors. Color can effect a family's moods; make small spaces appear larger, larger ones smaller; and even banish the barren look from a sparsely-furnished room.

Most satisfying colors are pastels or subtle off-shades, rather than pure primary red, blue, yellow. Dark wall tones contrast effectively with light-colored furniture. Dark gray with white trim, or Kelly green with canary yellow ceiling are good combinations. Maple furniture is brought into focus against shades of blue or yellow. Dark mahogany or oak is enhanced by medium greens or deeper shades of blue.

Before deciding on a room color scheme, two-foot squares or swatches of paint or paper in preferred colors and patterns from the dealer will make selections easier, as colors may be tried on walls, behind furniture and under artificial light.

Dick Luttrell was at center in place of the injured Jim Harrison for East Stroudsburg State Teachers College last Saturday against the red and white clad Cortland State Teachers from the Empire State. The fact that Luttrell was even able to make his way on a football field, let alone play virtually the entire game, would have brought grave doubt from doctors several years ago, when Dick was stricken with polio at Prospect High school, in Brooklyn.

Luttrell had just completed an outstanding season on the football team as a freshman and great things were being predicted for the youngster. However, Dick was hit by the polio bug and was out of action his entire sophomore year. Luttrell returned to the gridiron wars as a junior and at the end of his senior year was honored as the "most courageous athlete in the school." The road back wasn't an easy one, but anyone who was on hand to see the ESSTC center in action last Saturday will readily agree that Dick made the journey in good shape.

Those interested in the Warriors, especially the football variety, will probably be interested to know that Dick is minus two muscles in his left leg and one in his throat, as a result of the polio attack. Luttrell is a roommate of Bill Schmidt, a member of the ESSTC basketball team for the past two years and counted on to be one of the big guns this season. Speaking of the local college brings to mind that George Heidenreich, a member of last year's cage machine, is now stationed at Camp Meade. Frank "Hank" Pozda, outstanding star on the same court contingent for the past two years, is also in the Army.

Pozda had counted on playing pro basketball this season, but Uncle Sam had other duties in mind for the likeable ESSTC grad. Jack Boushell, East Stroudsburg's gift to the Roseto Redskins, came up with a painfully injured nose as a souvenir from last Sunday's encounter with the South Side club of Easton, won by Roseto, 17-7. Jack served as head linesman in yesterday's junior varsity tussle between East Stroudsburg and Bangor. Tom Lee, Bangor J. V. mentor, is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, class of 1942.

Don Stone, Gene Reish and Ted "Brooklyn" Stevens, unable to play in the Stroudsburg-Slatington game last Friday because of scholastic difficulties, were voted back on the squad by their teammates yesterday, after receiving the all-clear signal from the school administration. Jerry Stulgaitis, Stroudsburg High football and basketball mentor, is on the mend after a heavy cold did the bulk of its damage over the weekend. It is quite possible that the East Stroudsburg High school grid machine may be in line for several banquets if the Cavaliers take the measure of Nazareth next Saturday.

Dick Forster, assistant football and head basketball coach at East Stroudsburg High school, was among those watching the Army-Southern California grid battle at Yankee Stadium last Saturday. Howard DeNike, ESSTC soccer coach, is ill with a heavy cold and the Warriors were unable to hold a practice session yesterday. The ESSTC booters play host to Panzer tomorrow, with their record of three wins and one tie at stake.

Reports coming out of Carbon-dale indicate that interest in the North Atlantic League is as low as the bottom of Hudson Bay, in that town. It was also learned last night that new interests would have to fill the positions of president of the club in both Stroudsburg and Hazleton. This movement was brought about by the deal for the Scranton franchise in the Eastern League. An official announcement along this line is expected to be heard in the very near future—maybe today or tomorrow.

The third football version of the "Battle of the Boroughs" will take place at East Stroudsburg on Friday, when the Eastburg Junior High eleven plays host to a freshman squad from Stroudsburg. The kickoff is listed for 3:30 p.m. There's a chance that the Stroudsburg-Lehighton grid battle, slated for Thanksgiving Day, may be moved up to the Saturday before, at Lehighton's request. This may or may not be the first move toward making the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg contest the final game of the season for both schools, instead of as a mid-season clash as is the present policy. However, there's been no official action as yet.

Gene Martin, head football coach at ESSTC, will also direct the destinies of the junior varsity basketball club this winter. Tom Phillips, former football and basketball star at Stroudsburg High, taking in the ESSTC-Cortland football game last Saturday, despite the cold temperatures. Tom is just back from a tough time in Korea.

Chuck Dessen

Dressen To Return As Manager Of Dodgers

By Jack Hand
Brooklyn (AP) — Chuck Dessen was rehired yesterday to manage the Brooklyn Dodgers who blew a 13½ game lead and the National League pennant in the 1951 season.

The new term will be for one year, like the first, with the official papers to be signed when Dessen comes east from his Los Angeles home. Salary is reported around $30,000.

Walter O'Malley, Dodger president, told a press conference Dessen will be back. It came as no surprise for the story had been bouncing around town ever since the World Series. In fact, Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn second baseman, let the cat out of the bag Friday at Los Angeles when he said the players were told Dessen would return.

Fan indignation at seeing a World Series snatched from their grasp by Bobby Thomson's home run in the final playoff game with New York brought a stream of letters to Dodger offices. Now that the situation has cooled off somewhat, the announcement was made.

O'Malley managed to instill a little drama into the press conference.

"Charley Dessen has not been signed for 1952," he said solemnly. Then he quickly added, "but he will be as soon as he comes east."

How long?

"Chances are it will be the kind of contract we're beginning to like—one year. No trial clauses. Just a straight contract."

Will Dessen get an increase?

"I can't imagine Charley would stress that point too strongly." There was a slight smile on the O'Malley Irish map.

"If he thinks he's underpaid, we probably could get together," he continued. "But I don't think he's overpaid."

"I think he wants to come back. I know he thinks he can win a pennant with this club."

A few minutes later word hummed over the wires from Dessen, who said "that's swell. They've always treated me fair and I appreciate the way they deal with me. I've worked for a lot of ball clubs and I never bothered much after the season was over about signing for the next year. I never bothered to push it."

Dessen said he probably would see O'Malley at the minor league meetings in Columbus or the major league meetings at New York in December.

"I don't expect to go east until then, unless something urgent comes up," he said. The only "urgent" matter now would probably be a major deal.

While Dessen was feeling "swell," O'Malley told reporters his ideas about the manager.

"He did a good job," said O'Malley. "I think he'll be a better manager. Like all of us he'll profit by last year's experience, get the most mileage out of his material and conserve something for the stretch run."

"I'll never feel safe in the future unless we have a 40-game lead with 39 to go. This is getting to be a habit that could be forming."

East Stroudsburg, Stroudsburg Junior Varsities Fail

Bangor Wins On Two Early Touchdowns

Two quick touchdowns in the first period yesterday enabled the Bangor junior varsity football team to hang a 12-6 licking on the East Stroudsburg yearlings, on the latter's home terrain, at Memorial Stadium. It was Bangor's fourth win in seven outings. The Slaters also have a pair of setbacks and a tie in their 1951 ledger.

Lewis Casciano took the opening kickoff on his own 16-yard stripe and returned it to midfield. There first downs, on line plays, carried the ball to the East Stroudsburg five. Dick Hanna streaked through the center of the home team's line at this point for a touchdown.

Casciano's attempt at the extra point went wide of its mark.

Scoring Drive

Bangor launched another scoring drive, this one of 50 yards also, in the middle of the second stanza. A pass from quarterback Dale LaBar to Casciano covered 25 yards and resulted in the score. Casciano's second attempt at the extra point was blocked by the hard charging East Stroudsburg line.

Things were quiet in the second and third stanzas, but the Cavaliers broke into the scoring column in the final round.

Bill Sommers culminated a 60-yard scoring march by circling end for ten yards and the touchdown. However, the attempt at the extra point was a failure.

East Stroudsburg was unable to do further damage in the remaining minutes and Bangor left the field with its aim on Pen Argyl's yearlings. These two arch rivals clash at Bangor's Memorial Park next Monday, at 3:30 p.m.

Mexico Returns To Winner's Circle At Garden

By John Chandler

New York (AP) — Mexico got back in the winner's circle at the National Horse Show last night when Col. Humberto Mariles took the International Individual Championship Challenge trophy in a double jump-off over riders of three other nations. It was the fifth victory for Mariles during the show.

Fifteen riders from five nations took part in the affair over eight jumps before a crowd estimated at 10,000 in Madison Square Garden, but only five managed to clear all barriers without a knockdown.

Bucknell Mentor To Speak At Grid Banquet

Harry Lawrence, Bucknell University football coach, will be the guest speaker at the East Stroudsburg High school football banquet, to be held on Wednesday, December 12, it was announced jointly by Marty Baldwin, local sportsman, and Jack Kist, athletic director at the N. Courtland St. school, last night.

The banquet is to be held at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church, at 6:30 p. m.

Lawrence is currently one of the most talked about football coaches in the United States, as his Bisons are enjoying a record of seven wins and no defeats. Bucknell is rated at the top of the list of small college grid teams in the nation.

Second Year

The banquet, an annual affair, was started last year and is planned for every season in the future, in an effort to honor the high school's grid machine.

This year's banquet will be the best in the short history of the event, as East Stroudsburg produced its best grid machine in history. The Cavaliers will attend the affair as a team, featuring a record of five wins and three setbacks, or four victories and four setbacks, depending upon the outcome of Saturday's tussle at Nazareth.

Baldwin, who will serve as toastmaster for the affair, is responsible for obtaining Lawrence as the speaker.

Kist also announced last night that details on the sale of tickets will be announced at a later date.

However, adults attending the affair will purchase a ticket that will help defray the cost of the meal for one of the players.

Barnstable Fired As Cage Coach

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Dale Barnstable, one of three former University of Kentucky basketball players accused of taking bribes to fix games, was dismissed yesterday as Du Pont Manual High school coach.

Barnstable, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard are under indictment in New York in connection with their confessions that they shaved the point spread in a National Invitation Tournament game with Loyola of Chicago in 1949.

Announcement
Omer Carmichael, superintendent of schools, said Barnstable called and offered to resign after the board of education had fired him but before the action was announced. Barnstable explained he had been out of town discussing the matter with his family. His home is at Antioch, Ill.

West Chester Back Takes Over Lead In State Scoring Race

Philadelphia, (AP)—Fred Prender, of West Chester displaced Burt Talmage of Bucknell, as the Pennsylvania collegiate scoring leader over the weekend, an Associated Press survey disclosed yesterday.

Prender scored two touchdowns and made five conversions in West Chester's 41-7 win over Moravian Friday night to run his season's total to 81 points for seven games.

Third Spot
Talmage slipped to third place when he was held scoreless by Temple in the Bison's 28-7 win over the Owls, while Brad Myers, Talmage's teammate, took over second place. Myers scored three touchdowns against Temple to run his season's total to 78 points for seven games. Talmage has 72 points.

Ed Romanowski dropped from second to fourth place in the scoring derby as the Royals lost to Albright, 2-0. He has 69 points. The scoring leaders follow:

Then, in a second jump-off, Barry had three knockdowns on the raised and spread obstacles, for 12 faults, while Meneses had one knockdown, for four jumps. Slatington Rolls Over Mountaineers

Slatington — Slatington High school presented a big and powerful junior varsity grid machine here yesterday and the home eleven rolled to a 25-7 victory over the Stroudsburg High junior varsity eleven.

The home team exploded for two touchdowns in the first quarter, while the Stroudsburg club was trying desperately to stem the tide of battle. The extra point followed the first touchdown and came on the wings of a pass play.

Stroudsburg held its own the remainder of the distance although outscored by a 12-6 margin during the last three periods.

Slatington pushed across single touchdowns in the second and fourth periods, but were unable to add the extra point after either score.

Touchdown

Stroudsburg accounted for its lone six-pointer in the second round, when "Ducky" Smith, a standout on both offense and defense all day, scampered 23 yards around end and crossed into pay dirt.

Paul Lim added the extra point by ramming his way through the center of the Slatington forward wall.

The Mountaineers were unable to penetrate the Slatington defenses during the remainder of the contest.

Baker Defeats Bivins In Ten

Pittsburgh (AP) — Undefeated Bob Baker, husky Pittsburgh Negro contender for the heavyweight championship of the world, pounded out a unanimous decision over Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland in the ten-round main go at the gardens tonight. It was the twenty-fifth consecutive pro win for Baker who scaled 217 pounds to 186 for Bivins.

There were no knockdowns. Bivins slipped to the canvas in the second—partially from a left hook by Baker — but the wiry little Ohioan got up before a count could be started.

Veteran

Baker, who will meet Clarence Henry of Los Angeles at Madison Square Garden in New York on November 23, had trouble setting up the veteran Bivins for a kayo punch. Bivins stuck to inside fighting most of the way and the big Pittsburgh fighter's fight cross was tied up most of the fight.

Referee Buck McTiernan gave Bivins only the fourth, sixth and seventh rounds. Judge I. E. Goodridge gave Bivins the fifth and called the first, fourth and seventh even. Judge Robert Brownlee scored two rounds for Bivins, the fourth and seventh.

Bivins started to tire in the seventh. In the ninth he opened up with a flurry of punches but Baker was equal to the challenge and won going away.

Listed For Action

Three matches are on tap for the Bushkill league at the Harmon alleys tonight. Schedule follows:
Alleys one and two — Stump Jumpers vs Coon Hunters.
Alleys three and four — Up Valley Boys vs Fox Hunters.
Alleys five and six — Little Abners vs Bushkill Busters.

Baldwin Unable To Continue As President Of Poconos

Marty Baldwin, president of the Stroudsburg Poconos, announced last night that he would be unable to fill this position in the future, should the North Atlantic League decide to operate in 1952.

Baldwin gave as his reason for stepping down the pending deal for the purchase of the Scranton franchise in the class "A" Eastern League.

However, the local sportsman did point out that he would serve as advisor to any person or group of persons who would like to take over the Poconos, should the class "D" circuit operate.

Baldwin would like to have any interested parties attend the North Atlantic League meeting to be held at the Hazleton American Legion Post, Hazleton, tomorrow, at 2 p. m. It would be the first step toward a new group taking over control of the local club.

Finances

It was estimated by Baldwin that the new group would have to invest about $7,500 in the Stroudsburg franchise to operate it successfully.

Baldwin is currently a member of the combine that is assured of the Scranton franchise, although the official announcement hasn't been made by the Boston Red Sox as yet.

The combine also includes Louis Basile, New York; Eddie Kirshner, Hazleton, and Joe Cohen, Scranton.

Baldwin also stated that he would be glad to talk over the future of the local club with anyone interested in taking over the president's position, which he has held since 1946, when the North Atlantic League was founded.

The Poconos since that time have won the pennant once, in 1949, and finished out of the first division only twice.

Coach Kist plans another scrimmage session today, with a tapering off drill listed for the remainder of the week to guard against injuries.

The Cavaliers will take a mark of five wins and three setbacks, three and one against circuit opposition, against a Nazareth club that hasn't lost a contest this year, although held to a 13-13 tie by Bangor.

Begin Work

On the other hand Stroudsburg High, with a mark of two wins and six setbacks, is preparing for its next to last outing of the season, at Northampton, on Saturday.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis announced last night that no serious injuries were received in the Slatington battle, although quarterback Karl Weingartner reinjured his little finger.

Dick Campeotto, who missed the Slatington game because of a chronic leg ailment, remains a doubtful starter against Northampton. Campeotto is still limping.

Stulgaitis also announced that Don Stone, Gene Reish and Ted "Brooklyn" Stevens had been voted back on the team by members of the squad, after missing the Slatington contest.

The Mountaineers didn't practice last night, but instead viewed a film on football training at West Point, after school.

However, the Stroudsburg grid machine returns to full scale practice tonight.

Ratterman Returns To U.S. Football

By Ralph Bernstein

Philadelphia, (AP)—Professional football's traveling quarterback, George Ratterman, was returned to the good graces of the National Football League yesterday although it cost him $2,000 to become a New York Yank in good standing.

NFL commissioner Bert Bell announced that wandering George who quit the Yanks last summer to play for pay with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Provincial League, had been restored to the New York Yank active player list. Bell added that Ratterman was fined $2,000 for "action detrimental to professional football."

Ratterman, who will be eligible to play for the Yanks against San Francisco Sunday, signed a new contract with owner Ted Collins for the balance of the 1951 season and the 1952 and 1953 campaigns.

Ratterman, a $12,500 a year man when he left the Yanks, will be paid pro rata for the six remaining games with the New York team. He should take down

$6,250. This, plus the $17,000 the 180 pound "T" formation quarterback was reported to have received in Canada, would give him a total of $23,250 received for his 1951 football efforts.

However, a reliable source said the young grid ace had about $5,000 in legal fees, plus the $2,000 NFL fine and a loss in exchanging Canadian money for American currency. He figures to end up with about $15,000 before taxes.

Difficulties Settled

Attorneys for Ratterman and Collins said all legal entanglements between player and owner had been settled and that a breach of contract suit filed by the Yanks and the NFL in New Jersey State Superior Court had been withdrawn. Bell said the 24-year-old former Notre Dame star completed his Canadian playing last Saturday.

"He had the right to terminate his contract with the Montreal Rugby Football Club at the end of the 1951 season. There was no option clause. Ratterman has no legal ties binding him to Canadian football or we would have refused to take him back," Bell said.

The commissioner emphasized that Ratterman had never been barred by the league. He said the quarterback was placed on the Yanks' reserve list when he failed to report for pre-season training last August. Bell added:

"As far as we were concerned, Ratterman had a binding contract with the Yanks and I told him as before he jumped to Canada. He applied for readmission last month and after a hearing before me, I told him he could rejoin the Yanks but would have to pay a $2,000 fine to which he agreed. The boy will pay a portion of the fine after each game until it is satisfied in full."

Ratterman had little success as a Canadian football player. A few weeks ago when he announced his intention of seeking reinstatement in the NFL, George was quoted as saying he couldn't seem to get the knack of the game across the border.

Pacing Gelding Brings Top Price At Harrisburg Sale

Harrisburg, (AP)—A total of 142 harness horses were sold here yesterday at the opening of the thirteenth annual standard bred sale.

Auctioneer sales for the day totaled $66,950, or an average of $471 a head.

Niles C. Grattan, a seven-year-old pacing gelding, brought the top price of $5,200 for the day. The pacer was bought by Murray K. Agent, of Southington, Conn.

Big Day

N. D. Hal, a pacer by Hal Dale, brought the second high price of $2,100. It was bought by W. M. Stiles, of Woodstock, New Brunswick, Canada. Third high price was paid for Frisco Hobo, a pacer by Frisco Dale. The pacer went to Sylvester Gilman, of Readfield, Me., for $2,000.

The first of 100 yearlings to be consigned by the Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa., go on the auction block today. Thirty-two are up for sale today. Thirty-two are up for sale today. The Hanover crop this year is the largest ever sent to an auction sale by a single farm. The Hanover farms are the world's biggest standard bred nursery.

A total of 850 top harness horses are scheduled to go on the block during the week long sale.

Top horses of the sale are Tar Heel and Solicitor, two of the top three-year-old pacers. Tar Heel won the $66,000 Little Brown Jug race at Delaware, Ohio, in world record time six weeks ago and Solicitor was second in his class in the fastest heat. Both clicked off miles of 1:57 2/5.

Grange Backs Present Setup In Football

By Jerry Liska

Chicago, (AP) — Red Grange, Illinois' one-time "Galloping Ghost," yesterday said he believed colleges should provide football players with tuition, board and room and "if somebody wants to do something extra, it's okay."

Grange told the Herald-American quarter-back club that "99.9" per cent of the colleges operate their football programs legitimately. He defended football scholarships as a means of providing "thousands and thousands" of lads with an education they otherwise never get.

Statement

"Everytime I open a magazine now, I read that there's so much wrong with football," said Grange. "There's nothing wrong with football. It gives millions of people entertainment every weekend. There may be some over enthusiasm. My only gripe is that the over enthusiasm didn't start 25 years ago. I could have used an automobile."

He said the desire to win which prompts such enthusiasm is typically American and that alumni should want their schools to have good players. "I took a kid out to lunch several times last summer trying to sell him Illinois," Grange said. "He wound up at Northwestern."

Sneed To Shoot For Fourth North-South Tourney Crown

Pinehurst, N. C. (AP) — Some 120 golfers will compete for 20 places today in the forty-ninth North and South Open tournament starting here today.

The lucky 20 in 18-hole qualifying round will join about 100 others whose records in this and other major tournaments have earned them invitations. Eighteen holes will be played daily in the $7,500 event, with the finals on Sunday. Saturday will be left open to avoid conflict with football.

Sam Sneed, the American Ryder Cup team captain whose sharp, six-under-par shooting led the U. S. team to victory in Sunday's rout of the British, will be gunning for his fourth North and South victory and third in succession. The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., slammer has turned the 7,007-yard, par 72 number two championship course into his private pasture. In addition to three victories, he has finished second or deadlocked for runner-up money four times.

In addition to Sneed, Skip Alexander, Ed Oliver, Henry Ransom and possibly Clayton Heafner of the cup contingent will answer the call to the first tee.

Their teammates in the international classic, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, Jackie Burke, "Dutch" Harrison and Lloyd Mangrum, for business or personal reasons, will not be around. The British team will leave for England next week.

Cardinal Farmhand Killed In Army

Fort Huachuca, Ariz. (AP) — Pvt. Raymond Henry Jankowski, 22, a minor league pitcher in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system before his induction into the Army, died of injuries suffered here Friday.

Lt. John Kaylor of the post adjutant's office here said Jankowski was run over by a bulldozer. He died several hours after being injured. He had been in the Army seven months.

Bright Forced From Drake Grid Lineup

Des Moines, (AP) — Drake's Johnny Bright, the nation's all-time offense leader, has played last college football game.

Coach Warren Gaer said that an examination of Bright's broken jaw yesterday revealed it was re-injured in Drake's 35-20 victory over Great Lakes last Saturday.

The great Negro halfback had worn a special mask in the Great Lakes game to protect his jaw broken two weeks ago against Oklahoma A&M.

Bright yesterday said he wasn't sure when his jaw might have been re-injured Saturday. He said that it hurt him once briefly early in the game. Bright played over three quarters of the game on offense, passing for two touchdowns and running for another.

One Game Left

The unexpected end of Bright's college career came with the Bulldogs having one more game to play—at Wichita Saturday. In his finale, "Mr. Offense" gained 204 yards, 106 on rushing and 98 on four pass completions.

Bright, in three seasons of play—25 games in all—has gained 3,134 yards rushing and 2,769 passing for a total offense of 5,903 yards. He has averaged 236.1 yards per game to lead the nation on total offense since his first game as a sophomore.

The big Bulldog's further importance to Drake can be measured in the 384 points he has figured in scoring. Bright has scored 40 touchdowns on rushes and passed for 24 more.

Hershey To Tangle With Cleveland In Hockey

Hershey — While the election boards are counting the votes in today's general election tonight, Johnny Crawford's Hershey Bears are hopeful they'll be able to roll up a majority against the Cleveland Barons at Hershey Sports Arena at 8 p. m.

The Barons, defending American Hockey league champions, got off to a slow start in the wake of Pittsburgh's whirlwind debut, but have shown signs of hitting their stride in recent games. Last season they held the Indian sign on Hershey, winning five out of the six games played with the Bears.

Two Changes

With the exception of Wally Hergeshelmer and Hy Buller, who were sold to the New York Rangers, the Barons are much the same club which last season finished far out in front in the Western Division and then went on to nose out Pittsburgh, four games to three, for the Calder Cup.

One of the few newcomers in the Cleveland lineup is Eddie Reigle, ace defenseman, who performed with Hershey last season. Reigle, who played with the Bears on loan from the Boston Bruins, was sent to the Barons in the deal which found Hergeshelmer and Buller going to the Rangers.

Another "new face will be Joe Carveth, veteran National Hockey league forward, who spent 11 years with Detroit, Boston and Montreal.

Veteran Barons returning are Johnny Bower, goalie; Floyd Perras, Phil Samis and Sam Lavitt, defensemen; Fred Shero, Jerry Reid, Jackie Gordon, Steve Wochy, Fred Thurrier, Ray Ceresino and Ken Schults, forwards.

Six Biddy Basketball Teams To Be Selected

Monroe County's venture into Biddy Basketball will enjoy its biggest drill session since the sport was introduced to this area today, at the YMCA. The affair is scheduled to take place at 6:30 p. m.

This is the last opportunity for boys between the ages of eight and 12 years of age to qualify for the program, as six teams will be chosen at tonight's practice.

League

The six squads will be formed into a league that will operate during the winter months. Opening day hasn't been announced as yet, but the circuit will probably get underway later this month.

Each team must be made up of several members of each age group, thus it is necessary for the younger boys to turn out in as great a number as the older lads.

Tonight's session is the fourth practice held this year, all under the direction of George Metropoulos, athletic director at the YMCA. Metropoulos will be in charge of tonight's team selections.

The Biddy Basketball program is being supported by the Lions Club of the Stroudsburgs, with Harold Newman as chairman of the committee. Official equipment will be on hand for the league and players will be uniformed.

Cartier Continues Streak

Boston, (AP)—Middleweight Walter Cartier 161, of New York city scored his twentieth straight boxing victory last night with a fifth round knockout over tough Joe Arthur, 165½, of Indianapolis, before a crowd of 1,720 in Mechanics building.

The knockout came in 2:25 of that session after Cartier landed a series of lefts to the body and jaw and then crossed with a hard right to the chin. Cartier opened a cut over Arthur's right eye early in the second round but neither fighter was decked before the knockout.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Drake Ace Rated As Top Talent

By Whitney Martin

New York (AP) — A returning vacationer tries to catch up on the news:

Des Moines, Ia., is keeping its temperatures up these frigid days by continuing to generate steam over the Johnny Bright incident. Bright is the star Drake back whose jaw was broken in the Oklahoma Aggie game. Idea seems to be out there that either Drake or the Aggies will withdraw from the Missouri Valley Conference as a result of the affair. Sec Taylor, veteran and highly-esteemed sports editor of the Des Moines Register who has seen all the great ones come and go for many, many years, says Bright is as good as any college player in the game today.

Bright's only weakness is his inability to fake. He gets too interested watching the play develop after handing off the ball, Taylor says, and forgets all about deception. He came to Drake, oddly enough, as a basketball player, and couldn't make the grade. We caught the Joe Louis-Rocky Marciano fight on TV at Ames, Ia., and felt a little tug at the heart to see the once-great Brown Bomber stretched out on the canvas. But then we thought of the opponents Louis had left in the same situation, and couldn't feel too sorry for him. He has had fame, money and success far beyond that of most ringmen. He should quit now, period.

Folks back in the midlands wanted to know if there were any good football teams back here. We could point to Princeton without blushing. For any one game Charlet Caldwell's team probably could stack up with any of them. Whether or not it has the depth to stand up under a schedule such as Big Ten, Southwestern and Pacific Coast teams is open to question.

Sorry to see Steve O'Neill out as Red Sox pilot, but another nice guy, Lou Boudreau, gets the job. Understand O'Neill is to remain with the Red Sox organization, probably as scout. If he were made coach it would be a continuation of his merry-go-round with Boudreau. First Boudreau played under Steve at Buffalo in 1939, then Steve was coach under Boudreau at Cleveland, and finally Lou played under Steve again at Boston.

State Health Investigator Confirms May's Allegations Of 'Unsanitary Conditions'

Snydersville — Allegations by Walter May, county health officer, of existing insanitary conditions at several Hamilton township schools were supported and confirmed yesterday by a State Department of Health investigator from Harrisburg.

The investigator, Harlan E. Woehrl, was sent to the township schools following a request for State assistance in the investigation from Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe. The latter had participated in an inspection of sewage disposal systems at the Polk Valley school on October 30 and had promised members of the Hamilton Township Civic League action would be taken to secure an investigation by State health officials.

Purportedly, the investigation by Woehrl was only a means of verifying or negating May's reports to the department.

May's reports to the State had listed "insanitary conditions" at the Polk Valley school in both 1950 and 1951. These conditions grow out of a large, swamp-filled lowland area behind one of the two outdoor privies on the school grounds.

The pit of the privy is nearly filled with sewage and water, either from sewage or from lack of drainage facilities. Officials and investigators alike have been unable to determine which of the two defects may be the prime factor in the continuing stagnation of sewage deposits.

Some of the indecision on the part of school officials and others over proper remedial action seems to be due to an uncertainty about construction of the privies and their pits. Investigations have thus far failed to disclose whether the pits have concrete bottoms or were merely excavations.

Inspectors at the Polk Valley school yesterday were inclined to believe, however, that pressure from the large body of water behind the privy had forced water through the walls and filled the pit.

Yesterday's inspection revealed one thing — and one thing only — that May's reports had been accurate in all instances involving faulty sewage disposal. Expected recommendations or suggestions did not develop. Woehrl explained that this was not his capacity nor his purpose in making the investigation.

According to Woehrl, he had been sent to Hamilton township to double-check May's reports and, in turn, make a report of his own to the State. State officials then will presumably contact either the Hamilton township school board or instruct Woehrl on further investigation.

Of the three township schools inspected yesterday afternoon, two — Polk Valley and Sciota — were found to have seriously hazardous and improper sewage disposal units. Officials stated the outdoor privies at Sciota school were also filled with water.

The other school — at Bull Run — has drinking water which "does not meet State health specifications," the inspector reported. Drinking water at Bull Run is carried from a nearby house in buckets, then dumped into a crock drinking jar at the school. Samples of the water from the nearby source have been denounced as "contaminated" by State health authorities on previous occasions. The teacher at the school, in an effort to prevent disease among the children, has been dosing the water in the crock heavily with chlorine.

(The spring from which the Bull Run water supply is taken lies on low ground below a pool which is used as a water source for cows and other animals.)

Woehrl's investigation yesterday came as the climax to a round robin of reports, inspections, allegations and passing of responsibility from health officer to school board to health officers again.

Local health officers had, in the past, recommended replacement of the privies at one of the schools. May appeared before the school board in Kellersville last spring and told them about the conditions existing at the schools. Official reports from his office were made to Harrisburg in both 1950 and 1951 to which Harrisburg replied: "Kindly advise us of action taken by the board in this matter."

A month ago Alfred Kresge, president of the school board, was finally given authority by the board to "go ahead and get something done." According to Kresge, efforts to contact a bulldozer operator and grading equipment had been extremely difficult.

Yesterday, William H. Lutz, N. Fifth St., Strodsburg operator of two bulldozers examined the area at Polk Valley school at Kresge's request. Lutz said it would be possible to eliminate "at least the major portion of the drainage problem" by lowering a nearby creek bed and digging "French drains" alongside the two privies.

Participating in the investigation yesterday afternoon, in addition to May and Woehrl were Alfred Kresge, president of the school board; and Charles R. Keegan, sanitary assistant.
